ON ONE FOOT

Adult B'nai Mitzvah and Thanksgiving: A November to Remember!

They say that the holidays are behind us. Well, they are wrong! November will bring us something we have not had here at TBE in many years, an Adult B'nai Mitzvah – and all of you will get to see it, either in person or (for most of you) on Zoom. Mark your calendars for November 13, when Melody Bryant, Saffron Castle, Fran Ginsburg, Paula Green, Juli Harris, Leslie Heyison, Barbara Rothstein, Hope Stanger and Brian Steranka will fulfill what has been a life-long dream, while also ending what has been a three-year nightmare. This class began working toward this day years ago – and they've blown through two prior B'nai Mitzvah dates because of Covid, and even now, when we thought it would all be over, they've had to scale back their expectations.

This isn't the B'nai Mitzvah they dreamed of, but in some ways, it's been even better. We've all been tested by Covid, and we know that many in our families are no longer here because of it. So, the inconvenience of deferring this dream may seem minimal in comparison. But to say that is to minimize what it means for these individuals to at long last feel empowered to fully embrace their heritage. Each of their stories is different, and they come from different segments of the congregation. Each of them has known the greatest joys and excruciating tragedy in their lives. But they've become one through this process.

We are all busy people. But these amazing individuals deserve our undivided attention on November 13, wherever we may be,

And speaking of waiting, the last time Thanksgiving and Hanukkah coincided, in 2013, I noted that it wouldn't happen again for another 79,000 years. But this year, the two holidays will coincide with the same weekend, with Hanukkah starting on Sunday the 28th. And since we consider all of Thanksgiving weekend to be an extension of the day, let's dust off those turkey menorahs (or "menurkeys", as they came to be known). See more at <https://www.myjewishlearning.com/the-nosher/were-basically-getting-another-thanksgiving-this-year/>

The 19th century Hassidic master, Nachman of Bratzlav, wrote that "The days of Hanukkah are days of Thanksgiving." Indeed, our Hanukkah prayers conclude by defining the festival as a time "to offer thanksgiving and praise," and those special prayers known as Hallel are recited through the week.

So, let's celebrate this November, for the miracles of old, the gratitude of now and the resilience of ten courageous modern Maccabees of TBE, our B'nai Mitzvah class of 2021.

Happy Thanksgiving to all!

Rabbi Joshua Hammerman

KATIE KAPLAN, CANTORIAL SOLOIST

Cantor Kaplan's Yom Kippur Address

I have some exciting news to share with you all today before we begin the Musaf service. As many of you know, I have been serving Temple Beth El these past two years as your Shaliach Tzibbur with the title of Cantorial Soloist. A little over a year ago I became a Cantorial Intern of the Cantors Assembly, was paired with a mentor, and began studying to pass a rigorous course of exams to earn my place within the cantorate. Today, I stand on this bimah proudly having passed all of my exams, recognized as a full member of the Cantor's Assembly, and officially your 'Cantor' Katie Kaplan.

It's hard to put into words how much it means to stand before you, knowing that I've fulfilled the requirements and earned the title for the work I feel called to do. I am grateful to the Cantors Assembly and my mentor, Rav/Hazzan Luis Cattán, who helped me achieve this milestone in record time, to Rabbi Hammerman who encouraged me along this path and has believed in me from the beginning, and most of all to my husband Eric and my kids Ethan and Vivian whose support made all of this possible.

This journey over the past year and half was not an easy one. With the isolation of Covid and the transition into a new full-time career with new colleagues and new routines, perhaps it was a bit ambitious to also try and complete this program so quickly. In many ways I coped with the emptiness and inability to come together due to COVID by focusing on making as much progress as I could in my studies. There was a fire burning in me and I channeled my energy into productivity. It felt so good to be working on something with tangible results, to be able to climb toward something in one area during a time when I felt, in most other areas of life, like I was just trying to keep my head above the water. My ability to move through this program involved a combination of my determination along with the strong foundation I brought from a lifetime of study and growth in this direction.

I scheduled classes, study sessions, and exams throughout the winter, spring, and summer. My husband and kids knew that this push was important to me and they were supportive of the hours and hours that I spent studying and working, learning, and preparing - all the while continuing to bring my best self to my work in my full-time role here, planning services over ZOOM and in person, re-shaping the B'nai Mitzvah program, seeing 17 fabulous B'nai Mitzvah students through their big days, planning the Cantors Concert with Nefesh Mountain, leading minyan, teaching Meditation and Guided imagery, and serving as clergy for life cycle events such as shivas, unveilings, funerals, aufrufs, counseling, and more! Reflecting back on the past year, it was really packed, absolutely full to the brim.

While I placed tremendous focus on accomplishing my goal, there were only so many hours in a day and I was unable to be all things to all the people in my life who I cared about most, particularly my family. Life is all about give and take.

THE HAZZAN'S VOICE

THE HISTORY OF THE SONG BEI MIR BIST DU SHÖN

They called themselves Johnny and George, and they played the Apollo Theatre and any other gigs they could get one hot summer in the 1930s.

Somewhere along the way, they managed to get a booking at Grossinger's up in the Catskills. Not bad! Free meals, you make a few bucks, and you're out of New York City for a little while beating all that August heat that could blow down the sidewalks of 125th Street like a blast furnace.

One day Jenny Grossinger showed them the music sheets for this Yiddish song called Bei Mir Bist Du Shön, and Johnny and George had a little fun with it without a clue that what they had was going to become one of the biggest hits of their time - but not for them.

So, summer is over now and Johnny and George are back down at the Apollo; they decide to open with this Grossinger's song. They sing it straight through in Yiddish, but they kick up the beat and they get it rocking. And they get it rocking more. The crowd goes wild. Everybody's dancing. The Apollo has never heard anything like this. Two black guys singing a swing version of a Yiddish song? In Yiddish?

Watching all this from the balcony that night were two up-and-coming songwriters, Sammy Cahn and Saul Chaplin, and they both knew a sensation when they heard one. "Who owned the rights to this song?" they wondered, "And what would they want for it?"

Checking it out, Cahn and Chaplin learned that the lyrics had been written by one Jacob Jacobs who, with his music-writing partner, Sholom Secunda, had composed Bei Mir Bist Du Shön for a Yiddish production called, "I Would if I Could."

They'd already tried to sell it to Eddie Cantor with no luck. When Cahn offered $30, they were happy to accept. This was nothing unusual for them. They sold hundreds of songs for $30 apiece.

Cahn and Chaplin went straight to Tommy Dorsey with their new $30 song, urging the bandleader to play it at the Paramount Theater. Dorsey wasn't interested. Well, it was in Yiddish, he explained. So, Cahn and Chaplin translated the lyrics into English.

And then they took this tune to this new group of girl singers who called themselves The Andrews Sisters. It happened that the singers were then recording a Gershwin song called "Nice Work if You Can Get It," and it was decided that Bei Mir Bist Du Shön would work okay as the B side.

*Of all the boys I've known, and I've known some.
Until I first met you I was lonesome.
And when you came in sight dear my heart grew light
And this old world seemed new to me.
You're really swell, I have to admit you
Deserve expressions that really fit you.
And so I've racked my brain, hoping to explain
All the things that you do to me.*

HEART TO HEART

L'Shana Tova from Hope and Pamela.

As part of Temple Beth El's TBE Clubs initiative, Pam and I felt a need to create a group which focused on helping people heal from grief and loss. The Heart to Heart group connects our hearts with yours — as we help you through the process and move through your pain, to reclaim your inner light.

Heart to Heart is for anyone who is processing grief and loss in any way — from the death of a loved one, to a change in physical or mental health, to loss of a relationship, or even loss of a job or career. We meet twice a month, virtually, on alternating Wednesday nights. It's a place to share in a space that is private, safe, and compassionate. There is no cost to attend.

Heart to Heart is a place for all of us to be present in the circle of life, while we elevate our spirits to joy.

Please contact Hope theholisticempire@yahoo.com, 203 -357-0242 or Pamela pamelatinkham@gmail.com.

NEW FOR THE NEW YEAR! TBE MITZVAH PROJECTS

TBE is proud to introduce Mitzvah Projects- for individuals, couples, or families! Is there a local organization or cause that holds a special place in your heart? Would you like to get involved in a community Mitzvah that you can share with other TBE members?

To learn how to get involved, contact Julie Rosenberg at julierosenbergsjp@gmail.com or Jami Fener at engagement@tbe.org

Here is a current list of available clubs, which can also be found on the TBE website at: <https://www.tbe.org/tbe-clubs/>. TBE members interested in joining a club should reach out to the club's point person for more information. ## SPECIAL MITZVAH PROJECT

Emmet Manheim's, z'l, Bar Mitzvah would have been October 23, 2021, right on his 13th birthday. As such, Lisa and Jeff Manheim are undertaking a "Bar Mitzvah" project on Emmet's behalf: A book drive to benefit the Stamford Public Schools.

Emmet loved to read - especially funny books - and would've been passionate about putting books in classrooms that needed them.

Please go to www.tinyurl.com/emmetbooks to learn more about the project and to donate to the drive!

High Holiday services this year were wonderful, both livestream and in person! Todah Rabah to everyone who had a part in making the services run so smoothly! This year, after Yom Kippur, over 150 people were able to enjoy our to-go mini-nosh BreakFast, sponsored by Sisterhood. Todah Rabah to all Sisterhood members for your participation and support of Sisterhood. Your financial support is through annual dues of $36, High Holiday and Passover food sales, Gift Shop sales, Clothing Drive, and the many events we have throughout the year.

Past Events in September and October:

The BreakFast

Thank you to Beth Silver who volunteered to shop with me for all the food for the BreakFast! We had to make an educated guess on the amount of food to purchase since we had no idea how many people would attend the BreakFast. Good guess Beth! We only had a few items left over. The High Holiday Food Sale was a wonderful success. Everyone loved the food from W Catering and Events. Thanks to Juli Harris, Nancy Kapchan and Leslie Heyison who helped set up the food tables!

Clothing Drive

Thanks to Judy Schneiderman, Dora Salm, and Donna Wolff for coordinating and helping out at the clothing drive. A very special thank you to Ethan Kaplan (see photo below) who was a huge help unloading all the clothes and jumping in wherever needed. We hope Ethan volunteers next year, (hint, hint). We made almost $700, which will be donated to the community. Thanks to everyone who donated!!

Sisterhood Book Group

Thank you to Dora Salm, again, for running our last book group, The 7 1/2 Deaths of Evelyn Hardcastle by Stuart Turton.

Theater

With all tickets sold, thanks to chair Juli Harris, we had a wonderful time getting together (vaccinated and masked) to watch the live production of Crossing Delancey Street at Curtain Call in Stamford.

Upcoming Events:

Sisterhood Book Group Co-sponsored with TBE Tzedek Committee November 8 at 7:30pm

Led by Dora Salm on Zoom

Book: The Personal Librarian, by Marie Benedict. Thanks to Carol Krim for this recommendation. If you need a head start on your reading, in January 2022 Dora will again lead us in the book The Burning.

A lively Chanukah discussion on Monday, November 29 with our TBE Sisterhood member Naomi Marks. Remember, this year Hanukkah falls right after Thanksgiving. Check Shabbat Announcements and eblasts for exact timer.

We are so excited to introduce three new members to our Board, Lisa Grove-Raider, Nancy Kapchan, and Amy Davidson. Also, just as exciting we are welcoming back two returning members, Marian Bauer and Beth Silver.

Some future events include a lecture on "How to Take Care of Indoor Plants" and a crafting class on "Papercutting."

If you are interested in becoming a member of Sisterhood, please email me at sisterhood@tbe.org. So far, we have 218 members!! If you have new ideas or would like to volunteer, we would love to have you join us – it is a great way to meet people!

Thanks again for always helping Sisterhood, Alberto, Linda, Mindy, Rad and Steve!

With Thanks, Appreciation and Friendship,
Karen Resnick, Sisterhood President

Please contact Sisterhood at sisterhood@tbe.org or feel free to call/email a Sisterhood board member with any comments. We love hearing from you and are always looking for volunteers!

2021 HIGH HOLIDAY FOOD DRIVE

Many organizations have opted not to conduct drives during the last two years, so the continuing efforts of our congregation has significant impact in our community.

According to Rick Nixon, Manager, Person to Person, "TBE amassed 3,268 pounds (over 1.5 tons!) of food for P2P. To put it in context, this provides the shelf stable food for over 5,400 meals! This is an impressive accomplishment, especially given the unusual times we are living in. Please know that P2P and our clients are truly grateful and blessed to have such compassionate partners. We can't thank TBE enough for the continued support over so many years and look forward to working together in the future."

My personal thanks to everyone who contributed to our food drive. I would like to add a special thanks to the volunteers who worked tirelessly to unpack and sort the bags of food: Marlyn Agatstein, Amy and Ben Davidson, Lori Drucker, Amanda and Sophia Geffner, Leslie Glenn, Amy Greenberg, Susan Greenwald, Neil Katz, Dorothy Levine, Iva and Allison Mandel, Eileen H. Rosner, Irma Ross, Eric Strom and Jeff Turshen.

Bei mir bist du schön, please let me explain
Bei mir bist du schön means that you're grand.

The Andrews Sisters' record was released a few days after Christmas 1938. By New Year's Eve it was playing over and over again on every radio station in New York City. It started when "The Milkman's Matinee," on WNEW, picked it up and played it on the all night show.

Soon there were near riots at the record stores. Crowds would line up and the song would be played out into the streets from loudspeakers. Traffic would back up for blocks. By the end of January Bei Mir Bist Du Schön had sold more than 350,000 copies.

Bei Mir Bist Du Schön fever spread across the land. "It's wowing the country," reported one New Jersey paper. "They are singing it in Camden, Wilkes-Barre, Hamilton, Ohio, and Kenosha, Wisconsin. The cowboys of the West are warbling the undulating melody and so are the hillbillies of the South, the lumberjacks of the Northwest, the fruit packers of California, the salmon canners of Alaska. The Nazi bier stüber patrons yodel it religiously, under the impression that it's a Goebbels-approved German shanty.

I could say bella bella, even say wunderbar.
Each language only helps me tell you how grand you are.

Over in Germany, Hitler himself was a big fan. Finally, the Third Reich had a tune it could hum to - at least until it was discovered that the thing had been written by two Jews from Brooklyn.

Over the years Bei Mir Bist Du Schön made millions of dollars for a lot of singers and record companies. Finally, in 1961, after standing on the sidelines and watching the royalties ring up over the years for a song that they'd made $15 bucks each on, Secunda and Jacobs got the rights back.

As for Johnny and George, who started all the excitement one night at the Apollo, up in Harlem, it goes unrecorded קול החזן whatever became of them, or even what their last names were.

Hazzan Sidney Rabinowitz
 with thanks to Dr. Steven Shindler

TBE UPDATES COVID-19 GUIDELINES

The TBE Reopening Committee has modified the set of COVID-19 guidelines governing in-person, onsite activities held at the synagogue. These changes are based on current guidance/regulations from federal, state and local public-health agencies, as well as best practices at other religious institutions.

To view the guidelines, please go to tbe.org/covid-guidelines.

The Reopening Committee is chaired by Past-President Gary Lessen and comprised of congregants with medical, safety and other needed areas of expertise.

This past year required a lot of give on the part of my family and support network. My deepest gratitude goes to all of those who showed up to support me along this journey of the past year, those who cheered me on, sent encouraging messages, attended services, and continued to inquire with genuine interest about my progress and wellbeing along the way. I share the joy of this accomplishment with all of you.

In this upcoming year, I'm really looking forward to a realignment of my energy, time, and heart center and I look forward to being able to return the support and care offered to me during this time to my family and my community. The High Holidays are the perfect, natural springboard for this type of reset, for listening to the still small voice within that is always there, even when we make ourselves too busy to listen.

This year, 5782 is a shmita year in Israel, or literally "a year of release." During a biblical shmita year, the land is unharvested, debts are forgiven, and other economic adjustments are made to maintain an equitable and healthy society. The very concept of a shmita year challenges us to think about our ongoing obligations both to the land and to one another. This year I am also looking at shmita as a model for psycho-spiritual release, a letting go of the need to push and force things to take shape and grow within ourselves.

While it was an impressive accomplishment to push myself through the CICA program in just over a year, and I'm truly excited to have met my goal, I now look to this concept of shmita as an invitation for the letting go that needs to take place. Shmita calls on us to honor the bounty, pause to reflect on the harvest of previous years, and recognize that we have more than enough for those in need. During a shmita year, things don't stop growing, but we stop applying pressure and we allow the blooming to be natural and for the sake of the natural cycle rather than for the outcome or for our individual gains. This sounds so beautiful and liberating, particularly if we can apply the concept to ourselves, to our relationships with one another, and to the nurturing of our children. Following the intensity of the past year and a half, I'm going to tap into this concept of shmita on a personal level this year, and I invite you to join me in welcoming a year of beautiful release, a year of being enough.

Here we are together, and here I am, about to begin musaf with the Hineini offering one last time during these holidays. Standing before you as your Cantor, the title I worked so hard to earn over the past year actually means very little in this liturgical moment; it is a moment of surrender, of release, of request, for my prayers on behalf of all of us to be enough, for me to be enough, for the one who hears our prayers to hear them, to answer us, and to bless us.
