MICHAEL ROSE KNOPF, SENIOR RABBI

To My New TBE Family

It's hard to believe that in just a few short weeks I will begin serving as your Senior Rabbi! My first day at work will be Monday, July 29, and my first Shabbat will be August 2-3. I could not be more excited to get to work nurturing and growing our vibrant sacred community.

Over the past few months, I have been working closely with TBE's lay leadership to ensure a smooth and seamless transition for us all. I am deeply grateful to TBE's volunteer leaders – particularly Scott Krowitz, Devra Jaffe-Berkowitz, and Lisa Manheim – for their tireless dedication to this community and its future. And I am eager to begin working with Cantor Kaplan, Rabbi Ginsburg, Steve Lander, and the rest of the staff.

I am confident that we will ease together into this new chapter in our lives, but I am also cognizant of the rabbinic teaching, "kol hat'halot kashot, all beginnings are hard" (Mekhilta d'Rabbi Yishmael, Parashat Yitro). When a new rabbi comes to a congregation, there is a learning curve on both sides. For example, TBE is blessed with a large and diverse congregation. My highest priority is getting to know each of you and your families. But getting to know everyone in a large congregation is a big task. I know I will forget names, mix up relatives, and fail to recall stories. I ask that you please be patient with me as I get to know you.

TBE also has a beautiful history, many wonderful traditions, and countless customs that make it special and unique. These are great gifts, and you should be proud of them. I ask that you recognize it will take me time to learn your ways and that you please compassionately guide me as I do so.

Additionally, for the past four decades you have been blessed with a special rabbi whose wisdom, vision, passion, and sensitivity, are matched only by his menschlikeit (Indeed, he wrote the book on the subject!). I have cherished getting to know Rabbi Hammerman over this past year. I deeply value his guidance, support, mentorship, and friendship, from which I hope I will continue to benefit long into the future. I pray that I will serve this community with a comparable level of love, commitment, and professionalism. At the same time, I am my own unique person and rabbi, with my own ideas, passions, practices, strengths, and weaknesses. I pray that you'll be open to and understanding of the ways in which my style will be different from Rabbi Hammerman's.

Similarly, in the fullness of time, aspects of TBE will change. This is healthy and necessary for any community, the only path to continued dynamism, relevance, and strength. Some changes will be unconscious; others will be intentional breaks with the status quo. Some will be small, others, perhaps, large. Some will come quickly, others, more gradually. Different segments of the community will

KATIE KAPLAN, CANTOR

Cantor Kaplan's Remarks from the 2024 Annual Meeting

Leonard Bernstein said in The Joy of Music, "This will be our reply to violence: to make music more intensely, more beautifully, more devotedly than ever before."

Here at TBE this past year, we've done just that. We have made beautiful music in response to one of the most difficult years to be a Jew that I've encountered in my life. We've come together to cry and to laugh and to share in the full range of human emotion in "community," which Rabbi Jonathan Sacks says, "is society with a human face." Gratefully, we've been able to see each other's faces for the better part of this entire year. Unmasked and able to sense the depth of pain, joy, fear, and pride that we carry around day to day, the connection with one another has been strengthened and is even more spectacular than in pre covid times. Just pick someone else in the room right now, make eye-contact, and smile at them- go ahead. See that, right there, that is the stuff and these are the moments.

While we move through unprecedented times in the world and our country, we also are moving into relatively uncharted times as a congregation at Temple Beth El as we prepare for Rabbi Hammerman to transition to the role of Emeritus, and we welcome Rabbi Knopf to the bimah. Bittersweet, for sure, as it was exactly 19 years ago today when Rabbi Hammerman and Cantor Jacobson stood under the chuppah with me and Eric in Killington, VT. Where has the time gone?

Transitions are natural pauses in which people may find themselves saying, "Where has the time gone?" "Where do I want to be?" "Am I still connecting with my community?", "Am I still connecting with my faith?" During this natural period of questioning, I am here for you. We, at TBE are here for you. So if you haven't yet had a chance to connect for coffee with me, but you would like to sit and talk about life, your hopes and dreams, struggles, or even whatever you are binging on Netflix, please know, the door is always open and I am eager to spend time with each and every one of you as we forge ahead into the next year of redefining community at TBE.

With so many changes on the horizon it may feel like the ground beneath our feet is shifting, and not like the earthquake from a couple of months ago. However, the natural world has certainly been giving us some practice in epic shifting and monumental changes. From the earthquakes to the solar eclipse, solar flares, the Aurora Borealis as far south as Florida, monster storms, and rising temperatures, the Earth and the cosmos are certainly experiencing their own shifts in energy and taking us all along for the ride. TBE may feel a little bit like that as well over the next few months, but all you have to do is walk out your front door, show up at TBE and reconnect with friends and family around you to know that together we will ride experience changes differently: Some will want more change, faster, and others will want less change, slower. In this ongoing journey together, I pledge always to do my best to be sensitive and attentive to your needs, concerns, and ideas. And I ask that we commit to partnering together to build our congregation's future; that we cherish synthesis and compromise, and that we openly and respectfully share with each other our anxieties, hopes, and dreams for our holy community.

Indeed, in this very spirit, one of my first major initiatives at Temple Beth-El will be embarking on a "listening tour" of the congregation. In one-on-one conversations over coffee (or perhaps even a beer), as well as in small gatherings, house parties, and over Shabbat meals, I hope to get to know each and every member of the congregation – to hear your stories, to become acquainted with your families, and to learn about your experience of, as well as your ideas for, our congregation's future. We will reach out in the near future with ways to let us know whether you'd like to attend and/or host one of these gatherings. Please also be on the lookout for special opportunities to learn together in the coming months.

If it's beginning to look to you like I'm going to be a very busy rabbi, you're right! And I wouldn't have it any other way. My job is to be there for you and to help make our congregation flourish; holy work, which I cherish, that is perpetual and limitless. At the same time, I, like everyone, need time for rest, self-care, and, most importantly, family. I ask that you please be sensitive to times during the week that I reserve for these pursuits, including my weekly day off (I currently take Tuesdays off, but will likely take off Mondays once I transition to TBE.).

Finally, I hope that you will be in touch with me once I begin on July 29 (Of course, should you need anything, you are welcome to contact me before then as well!). I would love the opportunity to schmooze with you any time, and for any reason. You can schedule time to meet with me, whether virtually or in person, by going to https://calendly.com/rabbiknopf. If you don't see anything that works for you, you can feel free to email me with some options that do. You can email me at rabbiknopf@tbe.org. And you always know where you can find me on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings; I warmly welcome you to show up for Shabbat services, whether it's to talk to God, or to schmooze with me!

Adira, Lilah, Shemaya, and Akiva join me in sending you all our fondest wishes and most sincere enthusiasm.

Warmly, Rabbi Michael Rose Knopf (Reprinted from an email sent to the congregation on July 1.)

the waves of change and we may even find out that we really love to surf! Who knew?

Ruth Bader Ginsberg, zichrona liveracha, said, "Whatever you choose to do, leave tracks. That means don't do it just for yourself. You will want to leave the world a little better for your having lived." Rabbi Hammerman and Mara, you have each left indelible tracks in our hearts, throughout our sanctuary, in our homes, in the classrooms, in our lives, amidst our sorrows, and throughout our celebrations. You have left so many footprints upon so many lives that have then rippled out even further, that I'm certain you have no real sense of the magnitude of your seismic waves. We all live in a better world because of your care, your dedication, and your "having lived." We are enormously grateful and wish you both a beautiful unfolding into the next chapter of your lives.

Lisa Udi, today we also say goodbye to you as you take a new position in Natick, MA. Your footsteps, or more accurately your fingerprints, mosaic tiles, artwork, and sounds of joy and laughter will forever fill the hallways of this Temple. Edible Israel, cooking challenges, chocolate seders, epic sleepovers, and more! Your creativity has helped us to open our hearts and arms to an experiential and inclusive Judaism and for that we are tremendously grateful.

So, as we prepare to transition, let's focus on all of the beautiful moments we've shared together. The best of the best, coming together as a community to celebrate, mourn, laugh, and cry. Let's each find a memory that we can cherish and a moment of connection that we feel throughout our entire being. From the spiritual, to the religious, to the social, to the cultural, L'dor Vador, from generation to generation, our parents and grandparents constantly made adjustments to find their footing on ever shifting ground. Temple Beth El has a strong foundation, made stronger by the efforts of everyone in this room, and upon that foundation, I'm excited to be part of our continued growth and unfolding as a community over the next several years.

I extend gratitude to Scott Krowitz, the Board of Trustees, and our Temple staff, for their support and partnership over the past year and am most immediately looking forward to the upcoming Cantor's Concert, Some Enchanted Evening, on Sunday June 9th at 7pm featuring songs from the Jewish American Songbook sung by me, along with Cantor Micah from Sinai and Cantor Shimon Smith from Romemu in Manhattan with a great five piece band. While honoring Carl and Dana Weinberg, through music, we will look back, reminisce, and savor the musical soundtrack of our past with a deep appreciation for where we've come from, who we are, and where we are headed, which is both an opportunity and a blessing to be able to do together in community.

"L'dor vador, Nagid Godlecha. L'dor vador we protect this chain. From generation to generation. L'dor vador, these lips shall praise your name."

Cantor Katie Kaplan

LEO LINDER, DIRECTOR KESHER BETH EL

Welcome to Leo Linder!

Temple Beth El is delighted to welcome Kesher Beth El's new director, Leo Linder. Leo succeeds Lisa Gittelman Udi.

Leo's passion for learning and all things Jewish – especially music – was ignited by their own time in Hebrew school and grew over the years as they sang in High Holiday choir, performed with the HaZamir teen ensemble, and began to lead services. In college, Leo served as Koach chair of Hillel, organizing all of the weekly services and teaching peers everything from chanting Torah to kashering a kitchen. They hold a BA in Latin, Ancient Greek, and English from Tufts University and an MA in Latin from University of Georgia, and after taking courses in Talmud at SVARA and Hebrew at Middlebury and Brandeis,

Most recently, Leo spent 13 years at St. Luke's School in New Canaan, where they taught classical languages in grades 5 through 12, spearheaded equity and inclusion projects, and led the Middle School theater program, directing 36 shows in their tenure there.

they will soon be embarking on the path towards ordination.

But you may know Leo best from the bimah, leading services on Shabbos and the High Holidays, or "Zooming" into daily minyan. When they're not at shul, you'll probably find Leo at home in Norwalk with their spouse Ari and their three very old cats. They enjoy reading, crocheting, playing tabletop RPGs, and kvelling about their baby nephews.

Contact Leo: eddir@tbe.org | 203-322-6901 x 305.

CONTRIBUTING SHARES OF STOCK TO TEMPLE BETH EL

One way to boost your charitable contributions to Temple Beth El is to give shares of appreciated stock instead of cash. You do not pay any tax on your capital gain, and your charitable deduction is the shares' entire fair market value.

Beth El members may contribute shares of stock to satisfy their dues pledge, their annual fund pledge, and other contributions to the Temple.

After consulting your tax advisor, please contact the TBE office at 203-322-6901.

DID YOU KNOW?

TBE offers free family membership for the first year to any member's child on the occasion of his or her marriage. For more information, contact Steve Lander at 203-322-6901, ext. 304.

CRITICAL VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR BUILDING ONE COMMUNITY (B1C) IN STAMFORD

B1C has a terrific tutoring program for elementary students but doesn't have enough tutors. 14 volunteers (adults or teenagers) are needed on Monday - Thursday from 4:30pm-5:45pm. The kids speak English so you do not need to speak another language but Spanish or French would be useful. Each volunteer works with up to three children.

Volunteers must commit to a minimum of three consecutive months for one session a week, have basic technology skills and familiar with how math is currently taught at the elementary level. Teenagers must be 16 years of age or older. To volunteer, register on the B1C website at https://building1community.org/engage/volunteer-form/ and indicate it is for the Homework Club. You can also contact Margarita Zimmerman, B1C's Volunteer Director at mzimmerman@b1c.org

Noah's Ark

Have you seen our replica of Noah's Ark in the hallway of Kesher Beth El? It is walnut, measures 76" by 72", and has 149 plaques and 18 larger animals that can include engraved messages in honor of a family's children or anyone else, or in honor of a significant family event.

We are asking you to consider honoring your children (or anyone else) by donating $250 to this project and buying a plaque. We hope that you might be further moved to buy one of the remaining animals for a donation of $1,000.

Proceeds to benefit Kesher Beth El.

The deadline for the September-October 2024 Bulletin will be Thursday, August 1 2024.

Commit to leaving a legacy and help ensure that Temple Beth El will be part of the fabric of the Stamford Jewish community for many years to come. Click here for our LIFE & LEGACY Honor Roll.
